

Find out why more than 12,000
United Methodist churches work with Church Mutual...

...and why you should too.

Church Mutual has been serving the needs of religious organizations since 1897. Today, we're the nation's leading insurer of churches, providing coverage to more than twice as many as the next leading insurer. Our focus has resulted in financial stability throughout our history, helping us deliver a superior level of service, satisfaction and security.

We are a mutual company. That means we're not owned by stockholders or large corporations. We're owned by our customers — the people who work tirelessly to fulfill their faith-based missions. In other words, we work for you.

These are just a few of the reasons why more than 12,000 United Methodist churches have selected Church Mutual as their insurer.
